FOREST FIRE LOSS MAY BE $100,000

$5,000 Estimated Loss at Litchfield in Blaze Over Five Miles Long and a Mile Wide in Some Places.

(Special to The Herald.)
Manchester, April 21.—Women are helping fight the great forest fire which started yesterday morning in South Litchfield. 3000 acres are burned over up to the present in the towns of Litchfield, Manchester, Hudson and part of Londonderry. Numbers of farm buildings have been destroyed and it is believed that the loss now will reach $100,000. The fire is still raging, being driven by a high northwest wind. Five hundred men and women are engaged in an effort to subdue the flames.
The heaviest losers are Proctor Brothers of Manchester. The fire was accidentally set, it is believed, by a Mayflowerer early near the cemetery on the Derry road and is running over a tract five miles wide.
At Atkinson fire burned over 200 acres of timber land. Five hundred men, many from Haverhill fought the blaze all afternoon and until nine o'clock at night before the fire was under control. The loss is estimated at $10,000 on lumber and standing timber.
The fire started back at Atkinson depot and swept over ten acres of timber land owned by Charles N. Hoyt. A quantity of prepared lumber was destroyed. Another lot of lumber owned by Kelley Brothers of Haverhill was burned. When the flames started in the direction of the village, Chief Gordon sent details of firemen from all stations in Haverhill.
At Mason a bad fire discovered about 1:30 p. m. raged all afternoon and evening through the woods of the town, in spite of the combined work of men from six townships and late tonight was still uncontrolled.
The fire started in the easterly part of the town, supposedly from sparks from a locomotive and by nightfall had destroyed many hundred acres of chestnut, pine and other woods, both timber and sprout land. One man alone, a Mr. Bennett had lost 200 acres of timber.
The farm buildings of Charles J. Barnes were destroyed, and other farms were threatened and were saved only by back-firing.
The local department, proving unable to cope with the situation, help was called from the towns of Greenville, Milford, Wilton and Brookline in this state and Townsend, Mass.

(Special to The Herald)
Constantinople, via Berlin and Amsterdam, April 21.—British and French warships renewed their attack on the Turkish fortifications at the Dardanelles and a great fleet of allied transports are maneuvering off the Anatolian coast between Tenedos and Mitylene awaiting a favorable opportunity to land troops.
The bombardment of the Dardanelles forts by the allied fleet was resumed late Monday afternoon and under cover of the warships' fire six torpedo boat destroyers attempted to penetrate the straits, but were driven off, it was officially stated by the Turkish war office today.
The attack of a Turkish torpedo boat on the British transport Manitou off the coast of Chios and the subsequent destruction of the torpedo boat were reported in an official statement from the war office here. The statement said: "A Turkish torpedo boat successfully attacked the British transport Manitou in the Aegean Sea. The torpedo boat was pursued by British cruisers and destroyers to Chios, where the crew blew up the vessel in order that it might not fall into the hands of the enemy."
London reports said that the Turkish ship which attacked the Manitou was driven ashore by British vessels and destroyed by them. The British admiralty announced that the transport Manitou was not damaged by the torpedo boat, but that twenty-four men had been drowned and twenty-seven were missing owing to the capsizing of two of the boats landing troops from the transport when attacked.

ROOSEVELT LOSES FIRST POINT IN SUIT

Court Rules Colonel Can Testify to Only What is Contained in His Formal Answer to Barnes' Charges.

(Special to The Herald)
Syracuse, N. Y., April 21.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt lost a point today in the $50,000 libel suit brought against him by William Barnes, the Republican state leader, when court recognized this morning Justice Andrews handed down a decision that Col. Roosevelt could testify to nothing not contained in the formal answer filed to Barnes' complaint unless it could be corroborated by witnesses. This will tend to put the lid upon political revelations which the Colonel had expected to make if the court decided in his favor. His counsel made a request to have the question reconsidered but it was not sustained by the court.
The Colonel resumed the stand for further direct examination. His teeth glistened in the same old T. R. smile. Mr. Barnes fired the opening gun by asking Colonel Roosevelt when he had had any conversation with Mr. Barnes. "I was called upon by Mr. Barnes at Oyster Bay," said the Colonel. "In 1898, between the time I was elected the governor of New York, and the time I assumed that office." Mr. Barnes gave me the impression that he believed in the righteousness of "boss rule." I told Mr. Barnes, "continued Mr. Roosevelt, with a broad grin, "that Mr. Platt told me when I was elected that he controlled the legislature and that anything I wanted that the bosses did not want, would be defeated."

Philadelphia, April 21—If one were in search of a suitable sobriquet for any hurler of the two leagues, and in the first four days of the present season he pitched and won two games for his club, Alexander always draws "Old Reliable" could be found.

ordinarily be thought objectionable. "Nearly a week has passed before I have had one moment to tell you how much and how deeply I felt and enjoyed the perfect picture from the Edison studio, "The Stinging." It will surely carry a lesson to hundreds of people, harsh fathers, thoughtless mothers, young, foolish, untaught girls, and unjust people who have can be made by their acts, no human being could see that film without being deeply and lastingly impressed. The simplicity in telling the tragedy made its tremendous strength. The cast is in perfect harmony, each living his part. I don't remember ever having seen a story visualized which touched me so deeply. My heart ached with indignation against the cruelty of her neighbors. Please congratulate Mr. Plimpton. It is the story he told me long ago he wished to put before the public. It is done and it is perfect. Murder can be committed without hand or weapon, as is plainly shown. No guilty conscience will escape if there be one in an audience. Believing the film will have a long successful run and a re-issue and with thanks to each one who helped make it, I am most sincerely."

"The Stinging" is from the story by James Oppenheim with the scenario and production by Charles Brabin. Besides Miss Dana, who played the little girl, Robert Connors, Helen Strickland, Harry Beaumont, and Charles Sutton were in the cast.

Help! If this is allowed to go on, the Edison studio will become entangled in international or internal troubles. As it is the problem calls either for an alienist or a watchful waiting policy experts to find the neutral. As the action takes place before the sun is up, it being Director John Collin's continued story of his hunt for a sunrise, it smells of that, it seems suspicious. On the way a stop is made for breakfast, while Gaila Poline, the Edison Italian actor, is discovered eating German sausages while he sings "Tri-umphant" preparatory to playing a French part in an English picture. Where were we at when we began!

THE CELEBRATED FRANKLIN CAR

The man who best appreciates the Franklin is the man who has owned and operated another car—any car. He has a basis for comparison.

The determination of buyers to face the facts and get the figures has made the Franklin the fastest selling fine automobile in America.

Engine and Vehicle Patented July 1, 1908.

Weight 2750 Lbs., 4 1/2 in. tires—Price $2150.

In these days of standardization automobiles are known in classes—namely: Cheap, Common, Good, Fine, Splendid and Luxurious.

THE FRANKLIN IS DISTINCTIVELY THE FINE AUTOMOBILE

The Franklin today represents the most difficult of all engineering achievements—the attainment of reliable light weight, simplicity and easy-riding qualities, in a luxurious five-passenger touring car that costs less to maintain than the cheapest car made.

Automobile users everywhere have seen the U. S. Government's report showing the cost of operating a Franklin car in comparison with other makes.

The Franklin DIRECT-AIR-COOLING SYSTEM does away with all useless complications—eliminates radiator leaks—frozen plumbing in the winter and the trouble and annoyance of boiling water in hot weather. In the recent engineering test at the Mason Laboratory of Yale University, not only was the fuel mileage cost of the Franklin the lowest of any car tested, but under the strenuous conditions of the test, during the fastest runs and the heaviest pulling, the engine could not be overheated.

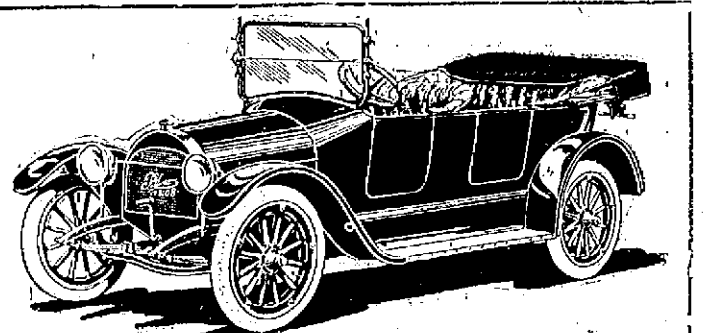

Get the facts from disinterested sources before buying a new automobile.

LOSSES IN RECENT BATTLES ARE HEAVY

London, April 20.—Although the German grip on the main chain of the man claims on the one hand and the Carpathians, but news of any decisive British and French on the other are action from this arena of the fighting is lacking.

The British press today is speculating as to the whereabouts of the German Marshal von Hindenburg, the German commander on the eastern front. Some newspapers publish the suggestion that he may attempt a diversion in Poland as well as from Cracow, although the idea is advanced that the saggy nature of the land would seem to prevent any large movement except at a great cost of men and material.

The British, whether or not they hold all the ground gained, undoubtedly still dominate a part of Zandford, a line of hills running southeast of Ypres and commanding the road from Ypres to Menin. The losses in this fighting have not been announced. Judging from dispatches reaching London, they must have been considerable on both sides.

The Germans declare that the British made use of shells containing asphyxiating gases. To this the British reply continues to be that the Germans first resorted to this means of warfare, so if the British are now using it they are following the example of their opponents.

The Russians continue to hold their points out that, except for local successes the war situation has undergone little apparent change in the past five months. The paper declares that changes in the battle line during that period on both the eastern and western fronts hardly would be noticed by a map maker, while official statements regarding the Dardanelles operations leave much to be desired.

"We urge the government," says the Times, "to use every effort to make the nation understand how small is the progress yet attained on land and how great and manifold are the sacrifices which still must be faced."

RHEUMASALTS IS FINE FOR TORPID LIVER

Learn How to Secure Quick, Safe Relief

The liver is the largest gland in the body, weighing nearly four pounds. Its main purpose is to aid digestion and make glycogen for the blood. So it is important to keep it working right. If your liver is lazy and your kidneys throbbing with a dull ache, you need the scientifically blended and chemically pure carbonated lithia drink called Rheumasaalts.

Come back, shooting pains, tired feeling, dizziness and nervousness simply mean that your liver and kidneys are clogged with impurities and that poisonous uric acid is retarding their work of aiding the digestive functions and filtering the blood.

If your liver needs flushing and your kidneys are not working right, ask your druggist for about five ounces of Rheumasaalts. Take two teaspoons in glasses of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days all the pains in your back will be going and you will feel as "fine as a fiddle."

Rheumasaalts is a delightful carbonated drink that cleans out the stomach and intestines, eliminates toxins and poisons and leaves the intestinal canal clean and sweet. It is a uric acid solvent as well as a saline laxative. Acts quickly without griping or nausea. Fine for growing children.

If your druggist cannot supply you, write to The Rheumasaalts Co., Minneapolis, Minn. Two, five and ten dollar bottles.

PEACE IN EUROPE MAY BE CONCLUDED SOON

Rome, April 20.—Within the past 24 hours there have arisen in Rome persistent reports that the grave international questions confronting Italy may be solved in the near future by what at first sight seems almost incredible, the conclusion of a general peace in Europe at a no distant date.

While these reports are intangible and cannot at present be ascribed to a definite source, they nevertheless are reflected in high quarters and they are given heed by careful observers of international politics.

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

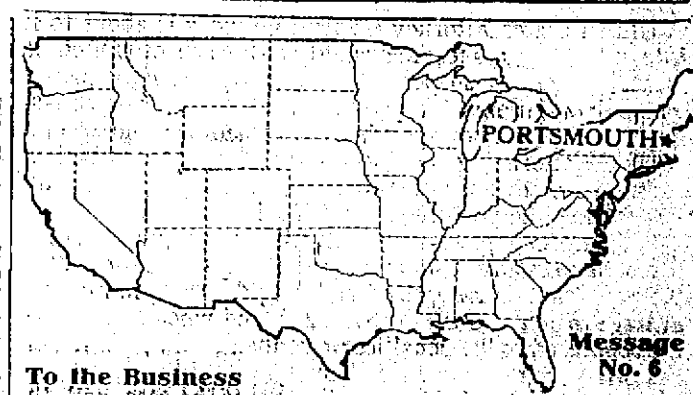

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1915) was the following article: "Lime loss has been much discussed in connection with tuberculosis and in the treatment of tuberculosis, a good deal of attention has been given to the question of lime loss in the urine and feces. In fact, a deficiency of lime has been thought to be a factor in the development of tuberculosis."

"Forced feeding of tuberculous patients and the consequent amount of lime and milk used have been studied by a large number of physicians who are unanimous in their opinion that lime deficiency is a factor in the development of tuberculosis. In fact, a deficiency of lime has been thought to be a factor in the development of tuberculosis."

Always we have urged users of Beckman's Alternative to attend attention to matters of food. In addition to rest and proper diet, some effort to remove lime from the body is needed, and in numerous cases of apparent recovery from tuberculosis and kindred throat and bronchial affections Beckman's Alternative has supplied this need.

Beckman's Alternative does not contain opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. Your druggist has it or will order it, or you can get it from us direct.

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, April 21, 1915.

On the Right Track.

United States Attorney General Gregory is about to institute proceedings to test the validity of the acts of United States district judges in suspending the sentences of persons convicted of violations of the laws. Whether the proceedings will begin in the court of appeals or in the United States supreme court the attorney general has not yet decided, but he intends to know whether the suspending of sentences is legal or not and to have the practice stopped if it is not legal.

The attorney general feels that the ends of justice are being defeated in many instances by the suspension of sentences. Men are tried on charges of violating the laws, in many cases at large expense to the government, and when convicted they are sentenced to the penalties prescribed by law. In numerous cases the judge intervenes at this point with a suspension of sentence, which is liable to be the last of the case, with the result that the enforcement of the law is turned into a farce. Mr. Gregory is of the opinion that the time to stop this practice has arrived, and if his opinion is backed by the highest authority he will see that it is stopped in the United States courts.

There are many justices of lower courts who are in the habit of suspending sentences in so many cases that the practice is beginning to attract the attention of the public. People are beginning to ask why police and detective forces and court machinery should be maintained at large expense to the taxpayers if a considerable proportion of those convicted of breaking the laws are to be freed under suspension of sentence. It is proper that justices should have certain discretionary powers, and without doubt there are cases in which suspension of sentences may be justified, but those having the power to suspend sentence or place prisoners on parole should studiously guard against the abuse or too free use of that power. If the laws are to afford the protection they were designed to provide they must be enforced fairly and firmly, and not in a way to encourage rather than to discourage the commission of crime.

Attorney General Gregory's move is sure to attract attention throughout the country, and if it results in checking the tendency toward leniency, which is rapidly nearing the danger point, if it has not already reached it, the law-abiding public will be the gainer.

Where Education Fails.

For years there has been a popular belief that education was to be the solution of practically all the important problems of the day. It was held up as the solution of the race problem in the South and equally pressing problems in the North. Education has been the battle cry and money has been poured lavishly into schools, colleges and other institutions of learning in the confident belief that by this means the people would be raised to a level that would result in the elimination of intemperance, political wrong-doing and the many other evils and abuses which afflict society.

Education is all right so far as it goes. It is indispensable, but the fact that it is not the panacea that it has been supposed to be is beginning to be recognized and admitted. So eminent an educator as Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, told a convention of school men in Philadelphia a few evenings ago that in the scramble for education we have lost sight of some important things whose place cannot be taken by what is popularly called education. He mentioned particularly the shirking by parents of the responsibilities that rest upon them and the consequent loss of the influence that should be exerted by the family and the church. Dr. Butler is evidently deeply impressed by the extent and horrors of the European war, for among other things he said: "We feel that thousands and millions of men are made better by education, but what have we to prove it by? What has scholarship done to broaden human sympathies? What has it done for the world? The history of the last six months shows we are falling short of our ideals."

The lesson is plain. Education is not all. It is a good thing, but it does not absolve parents from parental responsibility. It cannot take the place of the old-fashioned faith in God and man; it does not necessarily make people honest. Many of the worst criminals and most of the political crooks are educated men. It is plain that we cannot rely upon education alone to protect us against the evils that spring from the lack of moral character. If life is to be made what it ought to be, and this great country is to measure up to its opportunities, we must abandon the idea that education, important as it is, is the whole thing. There are other matters that deserve attention, and such a note as comes from Dr. Butler proves that the time is at hand for serious thought and earnest action.

The prohibitionists are extremely busy and planning to make themselves distinctly felt in the next presidential campaign. Can it be that prohibition is to become the great national issue?

SALISBURY BEACH PLAN DEAD

Massachusetts House Kills School Tax Measure.

The Massachusetts House of Representatives on Tuesday rejected 125 to 79 the state school fund bill providing for a half mill tax on $1000 to be imposed upon all cities and towns paying more than $4 on $1000 for school purposes. The measure is intended to assist smaller municipalities in meeting the cost of maintaining their schools and was favored by the state board of education and the legislative committee on education.

It was opposed by Mayor Curley. The committee on ways and means recommended rejection. It is understood that the friends of the measure will today make an attempt to secure reconsideration.

The house failed to agree 103 to 102 to an amendment to the constitution which would permit the state to select land in excess of that which is required and to sell that land which is not needed for the commonwealth's purposes.

It was the so-called "Salisbury Beach measure" which was rejected more than a week ago, but on which the reconsideration was obtained Friday by Representative Abbott of Haverhill. Although the senate agreed to the proposed amendment the matter is ended so far as this session is concerned.

BAD FIRE AT ROCHESTER

Ice Houses Totally Destroyed and Several Buildings Damaged.

Rochester was given a bad fire scare Tuesday afternoon when the large ice houses owned by City Marshal Charles M. Cook, with contents were totally destroyed by fire and seven buildings were injured at one time. The total damage is estimated at over $10,000.

The fire caught in one of the ice houses and quickly spread to the others, igniting the barn of Amos Clark nearby, where a horse and several hawks and pungs belonging to Charles W. Lawand Son were stored. These vehicles were saved.

The double tenement house nearby owned by Peter Lessard and occupied by himself and William Morin was badly damaged. Mrs. Morin who was in bed as a result of an operation, was removed from the burning building to a neighbor's. All the furniture was taken from the house. The strong wind blew sparks to the roofs of buildings owned by Mrs. Mary Horne, Mrs. Mary Watson, Mrs. Minnie Dunlap, Mrs. John Berry, several houses belonging to the Rochester Woolen Company and the Rochester Woolen Mill all on North Main street setting them afire. Each were protected by hose. Sparks also ignited a dump on Charles street, a mile away and the firemen were about three quarters of an hour in extinguishing the fire.

People within a wide radius used garden hoses on their roofs for protection. The loss to Mr. Cook will amount to $2,000 including 4,000 tons of ice stored for summer trade. He was uninsured. The loss to Mr. Lessard will be $600, insured; to Amos Clark, $500, insured. To the other houses the damage is slight. The cause of the fire is unknown.

KITTRIDGE GETS THIRTY YEARS

(Special to The Herald)

Augustine, Me., April 21.—Julian Kittridge, tried here on a charge of attacking 12-year-old Doris Brown and with assault to kill her little companion, Florence Lishness, was today sentenced to thirty years in state prison by Judge Beane. His attorney told the court that Kittridge was maddened by liquor at the time he made the attack on the Brown girl.

Judge Beane pronounced sentence of not more than 20 nor less than 10 years for the attack on Doris Brown, and on the assault charge on the little Lishness girl was sentenced to not more than 10 nor less than five years.

Under the laws of Maine the court is required to make a recommendation when sentence is passed and Judge Beane recommended the maximum in each case.

I am sure I express the thought of the president and the hope of the American people when I say that our canal was built not alone for glory or great gain, but with a sincere desire to make the whole world kin. There are two gospels now instead of one. The gospel of good will has been supplemented with the gospel of personal contact. The gospel of good will continues to be supreme.

From the first to the present president of the United States, whenever thought has been voiced upon the subject, that thought has been that we exist for humanity's sake as much as for our own.

While half the world is in a rage indescribable and unutterable, seeking to build monuments of clay kneaded in a brother's blood, sad eyed and sober the goddess of our institutions seeks to hold out to a warring world the olive branch of peace.—By Thomas R. Marshall, Vice President of the United States.

RAND CASE TO JURY TODAY

Former Portsmouth Man's Case Will Be Concluded Late This Afternoon.

(Special to The Herald)

Boston, April 21.—Arguments in the trial of Captain William I. Rand, formerly of Portsmouth, in the United States district court in what is known as the "Lucky Stone Case," continued today. Captain Rand is charged with using the mails with intent to defraud, and the case is being heard before Chief Justice Aldrich and a jury. The case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

Attorney John F. Casey for the defense argued that Captain Rand had no intention of defrauding any one, and believed that he was doing a vast amount of good in getting his lucky stones into peoples' hands.

LINEN SHOWER.

Surprise Given Miss Bickford of Kittery Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Charlotte M. Bickford of Kittery was given a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Mabel Burnham, Philbrick road, in view of her coming marriage to Mr. J. Byron Phillips of Kittery Point.

Miss Bickford previously had been invited to pass the evening with Mrs. Burnham, and upon her arrival was ushered into the parlor, where to her great surprise, as the lights were turned on, she saw in the room a number of her friends, members of the Phoebe Society to which the young lady belongs.

The evening was passed in a social way, music adding to the occasion being furnished on the piano by Mrs. Flora Spianey, and on the mandolin by Miss May Stafford and Mrs. Ruby Brown. Refreshments of coconut, sandwiches and assorted cake were then served by the hostess.

Following the refreshments, Mrs. Clara J. Lamoureux, in behalf of the society, presented Miss Bickford with a dainty linen luncheon set, who in a neat little speech feelingly thanked those present for their nice gift.

A most enjoyable evening was passed by all, and departure was not made until a late hour, upon which all showered Miss Bickford with best wishes for a most happy and prosperous future.

THEY ALL LOOK GOOD

A group picture of the mayor and city council of 1913-1914 from the St. Clair studio which has been on exhibition in the store windows of C. P. Dunnean was removed to city hall today and will later be hung in the council chamber or some other appropriate place.

The bantam rooster that escaped from the expressman yesterday afternoon at the station caused some little amusement for a few moments.

WILL CLASH ON FAST DAY

Portsmouth High to Meet
Nashua High at South
Playgrounds Thursday.

On Thursday afternoon, Fast Day, Portsmouth High school will play their fourth baseball game of the season, at the South playgrounds in this city. This will be the first time that these two schools have ever met, this being the first year Nashua High has been placed on the local schedule.

Of the three games Portsmouth High has played this season, all have been won by the local boys. Although Nashua claims to have a strong team, the Portsmouth team believes they will add another victory to its record. If Nashua goes down to defeat at the hands of Portsmouth, the local team has a good chance of obtaining the state championship.

The Portsmouth lineup will probably be as follows: Thomas C. Shuttlesworth p. Gibson 1st, Harrington 2d, Butler 3d, P. Timmons ss, J. Timmons lf, Mulholland cf, and Davis rf. On Saturday Portsmouth High will meet Manchester High in this city. It is then that the real game of the season will be played.

On Friday afternoon at 2.30 an auction bridge party will be given at the club rooms. The hostesses are Mrs. B. Howard Roberts, Mrs. Ruth B. Laighton and Miss Margaret Goodwin. The proceeds will go toward the running expenses of the club. There will also be a sale of fancy home made candles. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of cards.

The monthly social will occur on next Tuesday evening from 7.45 to 10 o'clock. The entertainment committee is a clever one and new games that have never before been played at the club have been arranged. Refreshments of ice and cake will be served and music and dancing enjoyed.

On Wednesday evening, April 23, between twenty-five and thirty Girls' Club members will make the trip to Dover in Margeson's auto truck to be the guests of the Dover Girls' Club at a calico party. PRESIDENT WILL REVIEW ATLANTIC FLEET MAY 17

The Review will be Followed by a Water Carnival at Night and Land Parade the Following Day

Washington, April 20.—The Atlantic fleet will be reviewed in New York harbor May 17, by President Wilson. Secretary Daniels announced the date last night at the conclusion of conferences with Admiral Fletcher, commander in chief of the fleet. The review will be followed by a water carnival at night, and a land parade probably the next day, May 18. Bluejackets and marines from the fleet will march through Fifth avenue with army troops from Governor's Island, the New York National Guard, and other organizations yet to be determined. The exact number of war craft to be assembled at New York has not been decided, but virtually all the battleships, many of the cruisers, gunboats and destroyers attached to the fleet, and some of the submarines and auxiliaries will be ordered out. The review will be the first held since October, 1912. It is now planned to have the fleet complete target practice at Tangier Sound by May 5, or 6, and leave about the 8th for New York. The bluejackets and marines will be given a week's shore leave there from May 9 to 16. The submarines will be brought up for the parade will reach New York May 10. The review and parade ashore over the fleet will pass out of New York harbor, not later than May 29, for Narragansett Bay for ten days' maneuvers, with Newport as a base. Between June 1 and 21 the vessels will go to their home yards for docking, supplies and steaming trials. The next rendezvous will be in Hampton Roads soon after June 21 and not later than June 25 the fleet will steam out of the Roads for San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal. Maneuvering on route the ships, it is expected, will pass through the canal July 4.

June 20.—The fleet accompanied by destroyers, submarines and auxiliaries goes from the navy yards to Hampton Roads.

June 23.—Review of the fleet at Hampton Roads as it starts for San Francisco.

June 25.—The fleet leaves Hampton Roads for the Panama Canal en route to the San Francisco Exposition.

July 4.—Official opening of the Panama Canal with fleet ceremonies on Gatun Lake.

Secretary Daniels said yesterday that he was writing to Mayor Mitchell to inform him of the plans for the parade review and water carnival and asking for his cooperation in connection with the plans for making the land parade and carnival a complete success. The review at Hampton Roads will be held by direction of Congress which enacted a law providing that the fleet should be reviewed at that point then pass through the canal for the formal opening of the waterway and afterward be reviewed at San Francisco.

The review at New York will not be the official review ordered by Congress but it is the plan to make it the greatest naval demonstration in which the Atlantic fleet and its auxiliaries numbering about seventy-eight units have ever engaged. The President may also review the fleet at Hampton Roads but this has not been definitely decided upon.

Originally it was the plan to hold the maneuvers in Narragansett Bay, first and to have them followed by the review and naval parade in the North River in June but President Wilson finds that he will not be in a position to visit New York in June.

The deceased was born in Portsmouth and attended the grammar and high schools. He left for the west when about the age of 20 and was one of the pioneer citizens of Greeley. He was engaged in a wholesale commission business and traveled much, buying produce, etc. He was also part owner of a plantation in Mexico.

Mr. Badger will be remembered by many local people who knew him as a young man and others who met him on his visit to Portsmouth two years ago, when he was here for a two months' visit to his boyhood home. The news of his death is a sad blow to his relatives and especially to his aged mother.

Mr. Badger was a man of excellent characteristics and of an optimistic nature and full of life. His sudden end will be heard with regret by all of his local acquaintances. His age was about 55 years.

Ralph Badger and Mrs. Harry K. Torrey, nephew and niece of the deceased left Tuesday afternoon for Colorado to attend the obsequies.

Miss Claire George who has been visiting in this city has returned to Concord where she passed the winter.

RAILROAD BILL IS KILLED IN HOUSE

Legislature May Adjourn Today—A Brief Review of the Session's Work

Concord, N. H., April 20.—The new railroad bill introduced by the judiciary committee was killed today by a tremendous majority vote after four speeches had been made. Benjamin W. Couch and James O. Lyford spoke for it, and Mr. Tobey of Temple and Maurice Connor of Manchester spoke in opposition. Then the house voted and it was all over.

No motion for a reconsideration of the vote of last Thursday, by which the bill authorizing the consolidation of the Boston and Maine and its leased lines was killed was offered today nor can there be now, the time for it having passed under the rule of the house. Nor was there any amendment offered to the bill killed this morning making this provision.

While the fate of the new railroad bill was still undetermined, and amid great confusion, the house adopted a resolution this morning providing for adjournment tomorrow and this went immediately to the senate, where it was laid on the table. A vote was taken on concurrence in the senate, but this failed, 12 to 7 and the resolution was tabled, pending the result of the vote on the railroad bill, the senate adopting a policy of watchful waiting instead of being caught in an adjournment trap.

Corrupt Practices Act Passed

Meanwhile the house had some things beside railroad legislation on its mind. The corrupt practices act, for instance, came up and was passed with its amendments. In its final form this bill is said to be satisfactory to the governor, providing for a limit to campaign expenses of candidates and committees.

Then there was the peaceful picketing bill to be got out of the way and this was killed. It was in the course of the debate on this measure that the house became so noisy that Mr. Clement of Warren moved that the sergeant-at-arms be instructed to arrest disorderly members. John H. Manners of Manchester was speaking against the bill at the time and the noise was an expression of a desire to vote on the bill instead of hearing any more talk on it.

The children's guardianship bill was reported with an appropriation of $25,000.

Metcalf Legislated Out

The budget passed the house with an amendment which legislates out of office the state historian, Henry C. Metcalf of Concord. The Democrats tried hard to get an appropriation for his salary, but failed.

The mothers' pension act was amended so that its workings shall be under the control of the state board of charities and corrections instead of the department of public instruction.

The existing act relating to the construction of public buildings was also amended so as to abolish the office of state architect. This legislates out of office C. W. Whitcher of Manchester.

The house also adopted senate amendments to the Eastern railroad bill and sent the measure to the governor. This is the measure providing for the incorporation of the New Hampshire railroad in case reorganization of the Boston and Maine system fails. The amendment moreover strengthens a clause of the bill providing that any corporation organized under it shall give New Hampshire a fair share of railroad repair work.

Meanwhile as has been said, the senate was waiting. Engrossed bills 35 of them, were reported and as for the rest the senators simply marked time. They were determined not to adjourn tomorrow if the railroad bill was passed in the house and came over to them but were apparently quite ready to go home if the bill was killed.

Results of the Session

As the session of the legislature is drawing to a close, the Republican leaders are looking over the results already accomplished with a view to seeing what needs to be done before the final wrap-up. In the last campaign the G. O. P. platform called attention to the fact that the legislative session last time, controlled by the Democratic-Moose alliance, "was pronounced of unusual length" and there were numerous sins of "commission and omission."

Now the Republicans have prolonged the session, although not as much by five weeks as the last one was, it is, therefore, not unusual that the mistakes of two years ago should not be repeated this time if the steering outfit of the party can help it.

The Republican platform condemned the office-grabbing of Feller's council. This legislature has passed a law to disqualify counselors from holding any salaried job.

The Republican platform promised to fix the primary law so as to "make possible the candidates of men for office who are not financially able to meet the strain to which they would be subjected under present methods."

Today or tomorrow there will be reported into the legislature the final draft of a corrupt practices bill which will strictly limit expenditures of money in political campaigns and will take away much of the advantage which the rich man has under the present system. This bill is agreed upon by all factions and will without doubt be enacted into law.

The Republican platform promised "some harmonious application of both the direct primary system and the delegate convention plan" to take the place of the straight primary. A sincere effort was made to do this but it was found impracticable. A bill was introduced and defeated because it was feared that the direct primary principle would be sacrificed to a greater extent than the platform indicated should be done.

The Republican platform promised to change the fish and game laws. A new fish and game code has passed both branches and will be sent to the governor for his signature this week. The Republican platform promised to spend the money received from hunters' licenses in the propagation of fish and game. This promise has been carried out.

The Republican platform promised to perfect the employers' liability and workmen's compensation act. The compensation bill was introduced but so far it has failed of passage on account of the stubborn opposition of the labor interests. The bill is now in the judiciary committee and its passage is doubtful.

The Republican platform promised a factory appliances law to safeguard life and limb. This will be provided for if the factory inspection bill which is now in committee is reported and put through.

The Republican platform opposed an increase in the mileage rates on the railroad without a further investigation and adjustment of all railroad rates. The railroad situation has been so demoralized since that plank was written that practically all rates have been raised, the mileage raise was allowed by the legislature and it is now in effect.

The Republican platform promised to enforce prohibition in no-license territory. Several bills to this end are pending. A strong effort was made to repeal the license law, but it failed.

The Republican platform promised to establish a highway department and take the roads from control of the governor and council. This has been done.

The Republican platform promised to keep expenses within the income and adopt a real budget system for finance. This has been done, the budget bills will pass the house today and the senate tomorrow which provide for a reduction in the tax of $100,000, the payment of $170,000 of the debt without borrowing a cent and an estimated surplus of income over expenses of $50,000.

The Republican platform promised to welcome back the Bull Moose who strayed from the fold two years ago. This has been done so well that throughout the session the Progressives and straight goods G. O. P. men have worked hand in hand and considered themselves as of one party.

This is all the Republican platform promised to do. The legislature has not done everything, but it has done a large part. For some of the failures there is a legitimate excuse because unforeseen difficulties, as in the case of the primary law have arisen. In other cases—exceptionally few—the party leaders have not been willing to urge the passage of the promised legislation, as in the case of the workmen's compensation proposition. In general, however, there has been a remarkably large amount of carrying out the campaign promises, probably more in proportion than any other legislature ever did.

Many things not in the platform have been done by the Republican majority, sometimes alone and sometimes with the assistance of other parties.

The cause of education has been aided by giving the largest appropriation ever voted to the state college, by a grant of nearly $100,000 to build normal school buildings. The school supervision bill endorsed in the Democratic platform was killed.

Agriculture has been aided by grants for the development of new farm industries, the promotion of agricultural fairs and exhibits and the regulation of feeding stuffs and other commodities. The department of agriculture is being well supplied with funds to carry on its work.

Steps have been taken to call a constitutional convention in order to give relief to lumber interests who complain that timber growths are being overtaxed.

A mothers' pension law has been passed which will be a real law under the supervision of the state board of charities and corrections rather than a law under the supervision of the county commissioners.

The board of control has been wiped out and a board of trustees created to manage the institutions. The license commission has been abolished and an excise commission created to be run at less cost. The office of state auditor has been abolished and all the district courts. A bank commission has been created to take the place of the bank commissioner. Police courts have been created.

As this clearing week passes, much important action will be done probably affecting the record of the party in power. Upon that record the next campaign may largely depend.

"MUTT AND JEFF IN MEXICO"

To offer a fourth edition of that which has been acknowledged the greatest musical comedy success in theatrical history is something of an undertaking. In fact Gus Hill's book that has made him upwards of a million dollars in the past three seasons, but the irrepressible Bud Fisher doesn't hesitate to do anything. He has taken his character creations through Turkey and Panama and patriotically feels that Mexico cannot be properly pacified without the assistance of "Mutt and Jeff." Mr. Fisher and Gus Hill have collaborated in writing a new book which is called "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico." A new musical score has been written with the result that the new "Mutt and Jeff" production will be bigger and better than ever before.

Gus Hill has expended a small fortune on scenic and electrical effects and mechanical illustrations, saying nothing of the twenty changes of gorgeous costumes worn by the prettiest chorus ever gathered together under one managerial banner. The play is a typical sensational melo-drama with musical and comedy embellishments. It is decidedly different from anything yet seen in musical comedy production and will without doubt prove pleasing. "Mutt and Jeff" will appear as a secret service detective and his troublesome prisoner "Jeff" will, of course be the vicious villain and contrary to their usual custom, they will come out the winner of ten thousand "Shoguns" for capturing a couple of foreign spies who have stolen the sealed orders. Scientifically, the offering will differ from anything Broadway has yet seen. The third act will show a full rigged battleship.

"Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" will visit Portsmouth on Thursday evening, April 29, for a play of one night at the Portsmouth Theatre. If you are familiar with the business this attraction has done all over the country, you will take my tip and get reserved seats early.

MAY WHEAT TAKES A SUDDEN DROP

Chicago, April 20.—May delivery of wheat suffered a break today of almost 7 cents a bushel. Free selling of small lots of the May option at the opening caught a number of stop-loss orders and in the absence of any strong support the market dropped with startling rapidity. May which closed last night at $1.03 3/4 sold quickly today as low as $1.00 1/2, but reacted with almost equal suddenness to within 1 cent of last night. New crop months, July and September, in which most of the speculative business has centered of late, were comparatively unaffected by the flurry in the old crop delivery of the May.

BURGLARS MAKE TWO BREAKS IN KITTERY

Raid a Grocery Store and Bakery There Last Night.

Petty burglaries which have baffled the police for many months continue and the thieves' fraternity are still busy. The latest job was across the river in Kittery where they raided the grocery store of C. M. Prince and the Kittery Bakery on Tuesday night. They worked hard to get into both places. At the grocery store they tried several ways to gain entrance and finally dug out the panel of a back door with a chisel and removed the bolt on the same. They rifled the cash register, but got no money. Much of the stock about the store was tossed about on the floor. Mr. Prince reports cigars, tobacco, meats, and minor articles missing. The office was ransacked completely but nothing of any value taken.

To get in the baker shop they attempted to force several windows, but finding them fastened firmly they ripped a storm door off the rear of the building and the rest was easy.

Here they had a real banquet and helped themselves to the sweet products of the establishment. After the feed they made a thorough search of the place. $1.50 in change was taken. The fact that the safe was open did not satisfy them and they cleaned it out taking away stamps, etc, but overlooked some checks made out for payment today by Mr. Carroll, the proprietor.

At present the town has no night patrolman owing to no appropriation being made for the same. A good many of the citizens in speaking of the work of the thieves in the town, believe that they should have some protection against these robberies, and that the selectmen should get busy with that end in view. They claim that considerable has been done, financially regarding fire protection and why not a little for police service.

UNTIL WOMEN VOTE

The New York cannots last week pushed through the State Senate, as they had previously pushed through the Assembly, the bill permitting them to work women and children seventy-two hours a week instead of sixty. The carriers were at all times in evidence, but no representatives of women were there.

Throughout the non-suffrage States action is constantly being taken against women's interests and against women's wishes. The New Hampshire Legislature refused to pass a meat inspection bill which would have prevented the entrance into the State of meat that is too impure for Massachusetts. The Maine House killed a mothers' pension bill. In Massachusetts women who have scrubbed the State House for years were refused inclusion in the pension system for other State employees.

The women's point of view will never be held in a State Legislature for any length of time until women can vote for the members of that Legislature.
